Student story Rhenny

For Rhenny, making the leap from an IT and finance background to the make-up industry was massive, but she had to follow her heart.

She enrolled in Chisholm's Certificate III in Make-up and never looked back.

The Certificate III equips students with all the skills needed to get started in a freelance or retail make-up career.

Participants learn all the latest trends and techniques for doing bridal and fashion make-up, airbrushing, special occasion make-up, camouflage, eyelash extensions and fantasy make-up.

"My favourite part was the practical assessments," says Rhenny. "Watching the teacher's lesson and then attempting to recreate on your model was really fun. I'm a very visual learner, so I enjoyed that aspect."

Rhenny says she was impressed with the learning experience at Chisholm and level of commitment from the teaching staff.

"The teachers are so incredibly skilled," she says.

After graduating, Rhenny got a job working for MECCA full-time and launched her own make-up business.

Her advice to aspiring make-up artists is to do some research online and have a dabble before getting a qualification.
