

Training and assessment

Ready to share the skills and knowledge you've gained in your career with the next generation of workers in your industry?

Adding a training and assessment qualification to your resume can open a world of opportunities. You could work as a TAFE teacher, vocational trainer, assessor or compliance officer in a registered training organisation or in a business environment.

The highly regarded Certificate IV in Training and Assessment allows you to deliver training in the vocational education sector.

For those ready to further develop their career, the Diploma of Vocational Education and Training teaches advanced training and assessment practices.

At Chisholm we love teaching, and we love teaching others how to teach – so we can help you to share your knowledge with others and transform lives.

Student story James

For James, studying Chisholm's Certificate IV in Training and Assessment (TAE) opened up a world of possibilities he had never considered before.

James spent 20 years working in scientific instrumentation training scientists how to use equipment.

He decided to formalise his skills in training, so he enrolled in Chisholm's Certificate IV in Training and Assessment (TAE).

The course gives students competence in developing and facilitating group-based learning programs, among other skills.

As part of the curriculum, students must teach the class in their area of expertise, so James had to teach his peers how to collect a water sample for testing.

He learnt how to explain things in a way that was interesting and easy to understand for everyone, including those without prior knowledge of the subject matter.

James nailed the course and was even nominated as Vocational Student of the Year at the Chisholm Education Awards.

The Certificate IV in Training and Assessment (TAE) not only gave James the qualification needed to land a part-time role in training and assessment, it also inspired him to pursue a new career path – he hopes to one day teach the TAE himself at Chisholm.
